FUND OBJECTIVE

The objective of the United Capital Wealth for Women Fund is to promote the financial inclusion of the female gender by increasing their access to financial investment products and addressing the current imbalance of most investment products being skewed towards the male gender.

The Fund Manager seeks to maintain a balance between realized income and capital growth to ensure regular distribution payments and continuous appreciation in asset values while ensuring optimal safety of assets and adequate liquidity to meet the Fund's obligations as they fall due. The Fund invests in money markets and equities. The equity portfolio is tilted towards companies with significant female representation on their boards and management teams.

MARKET REVIEW, OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

In The bulls continued dominating the Nigerian Exchange Limited (NGX) floor in November. Positive sentiments amongst investors towards fundamentally sound stocks dominated the market. Buying interests in large-cap stocks such as AIRTELAF (+18.1% m/m) and SEPLAT (+22.8% m/m) spurred the rally. As a result, the benchmark NGX-All Share Index (NGX-ASI) climbed by 3.1% m/m to close at 71,365.3 points. Consequently, YTD return strengthened to 39.2%, with market capitalization settling at N39.1tn.

Looking ahead, we expect mixed sentiments in the equities market in Dec-2023. First, we believe the bulls' dominance will linger as the positive sentiments towards the market continue to drive the rally. Hence, we recommend cherry-picking activities around fundamentally sound stocks with solid performance in anticipation of FY earnings.

In the primary market, the Central Bank of Nigeria (CBN) conducted an NT-bills auction, rolling over a total of N310.1bn maturing bills across the 91-day, 182-day and 364-day bills. At the auction, investors' demand was strong, with the bulk of bids skewed towards the longer-tenured instrument. As a result, the total subscription printed at N875.8bn. Notably, the CBN over-allotted at the auction, as total bills sold printed at N491.8bn, implying a bid-to-cover ratio of 1.2x. In line with our expectation, the stop rates across all the maturing bills, 91-day, 182-day and 364-day bills climbed by 100bps, 200bps and 375bps to settle at 7.00%, 11.00% and 16.75%, respectively.

Looking ahead, we expect that the CBN's disposition to monetary tightening will allow money market and FTD rates to stay elevated around current levels, with a high likelihood of trending higher at restrictive levels. System illiquidity will play a background role in the direction of rates at the short end of curve. Funding rates may not be responsive to liquidity fundamentals as previously seen in Q3-2023.

Last month, the Debt Management Office (DMO) conducted its FGN bond Auction for Nov-2023, with N360.0bn worth of papers on offer across the following tenors: APR 2029, JUN 2033, JUN 2038, and JUN 2053. During the auction, investors demonstrated robust demand, buoyed by ample liquidity in the system. The preference was notably tilted towards instruments with longer tenures. For instance, investors' interest was majorly skewed towards the 2053s, which accounted for 74.17% of subscriptions. Thus, the auction was oversubscribed, with total subscription printing at N445.3bn. Notably, the DMO oversold the auction, allotting a total of N434.5bn vs 360.0bn on offer signaling the government's strong reliance on the domestic debt market. This indicates a bid-to-cover ratio of 1.0x. Consequently, the marginal rate on the 2029s, 2033, 2038s and 2053s papers climbed by 110bps, 125bps, 170bps and 140bps to settle at 16.00%, 17.00%, 17.50% and 18.00%, respectively.

Consequently, we maintain our expectations of continued reliance on the domestic debt market by the Federal Government (FG), as evidenced by the dwindling government revenue. This will drive the supply of bonds in the primary market as the FG sought capital expenditure financing.

PERFORMANCE REVIEW

The United Capital Wealth For Women Fund returned 26.12% on a year to date ("YTD") basis as at the end of November, compared to the composite benchmark (91-day T-bills and the ASI) return of 22.84% for the same period.

In November, The bulls continued dominating the Nigerian Exchange Limited (NGX) floor in November. Positive sentiments amongst investors towards fundamentally sound stocks dominated the market.

We remain conservative in line with the investment policy objectives, as our selection of fundamentally strong stocks and high yielding money market instruments should further enhance the returns of the Fund going forward.
