MARKET REVIEW, OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

The local bourse closed on a bullish note for the month of September as positive sentiments despite the somewhat bearish sentiment that dominated the local bourse during the month. We note that the rally seen at the end of the month was due to the end of the quarter portfolio adjustments by portfolio managers. As such, the benchmark NGX All Share Index (ASI) grew 2.6% m/m as YTD loss moderated to 0.0%, while the index printed at 40,221.17 points.

In the NT-bills market, the market remained relatively tight following the uncertain interest rate direction at PMAs. In the OMO bills market, the average yield rose by 8bps to 6.25% (previously 6.18%). Contrarily, in the corporate bond market, the average yield on corporate bonds declined by 24bps m/m at 11.5% in the period under review.

In the coming month, we expect to see increased market activity as investors will become increasingly active in anticipation of 9M earning release. We expect bearish sentiments to dominate activities in the money market as sovereign debt managers will continue to bid higher, following the recent upturn in stop rates at PMAs.

PERFORMANCE REVIEW

The United Capital Wealth For Women Fund returned 4.93% on a year to date ("YTD") basis, compared to the composite benchmark (91-day T-bills and the ASI) return of 3.44% for the same period.

The mixed trend in the equities market impacted positively on the Fund. However, the Fund's holding in money market instruments helped improve returns in light of the declining interest rate. We remain conservative in line with the investment policy objectives, as our selection of fundamentally strong stocks and high yielding money market instruments should enhance the performance of the Fund going forward.
