

United Capital Eurobond Fund | Monthly Fact Sheet

October-22

FUND OBJECTIVE

The United Capital Nigerian Eurobond Fund is an open-ended mutual fund that is invested in Dollar denominated Eurobonds, floated by the Federal Government of Nigeria, as well as top-tier corporates. Subscribers can expect to receive competitive short to medium term capital appreciation on their USD holdings invested in the Fund better than they would receive on domiciliary deposits. The minimum investment is $1,000 and multiples of $500 thereafter.

MARKET REVIEW, OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

In October, the Nigerian Eurobond market closed flat as average yields on FGN Eurobonds printed at 14.3%. This is as a pullback in US yields and the US dollar offered some reprieve to Nigerian Eurobond prices, even with ongoing speculation that the US Fed would downshift the pace of rate hikes in the coming months.

The "dovish hike" by the Bank of Canada, similar to the decision by the Reserve Bank of Australia, plus Brazil's Central Bank's pause for its 2nd consecutive meeting after hiking rates for 12 consecutive meetings, all planted the seed for last month's US dollar and yields moderation. This suggests that central banks, including the ECB, may already be contemplating slowing the pace of hikes.

In November, market action will be driven by the rate decisions to be made by the US Fed and BoE and market sentiment leading up to the meeting.

PERFORMANCE REVIEW

In October, the United Capital Nigerian Eurobond Fund returned 0.54% and year-to-date annualized return stood at 5.82%. The Fund's Annualized benchmark return was 10.21% for the same period.

The performance of the Fund during the period was underpinned by bearish sentiments in the emerging market ("EM") sovereign and corporate bonds' space as yields suffered the effect of renewed demand seen on U.S. Treasuries on the back of Fed's hawkish tone stressing its stance on combating inflation. Crude oil, a major source of FX to many some sovereign and corporate issuers hovered below $100 market during the month as a result of demand concerns, with Brent closing the month at $89/barrel mark.

We will continue to maintain the required allocation ranges in line with the Trust Deed, and tactically pick higher yielding maturities in the sovereign bond space to enhance the performance of the fund.
